Crack in The Curtain

EDITORIAL, DCJ

Very quietly and with no particular fanfare on New Year's Day a momentous small step occurred that may have more potential than the largest explosion. The exchange of addresses - Gorbachev to the United States public and President Reagan to the Soviet public is a first of great significance. Gorbachev speaking to us is valuable in that we size up the person but, in a free society, we are accustomed to reviewing world political leaders. For the captive people held behind the patroled, armed borders of the Soviet system, the chance to size up President Reagan must have had an impact of far greater magnitude. Soviet controlled news projects a far different image of our president than that seen on New Year's Day on Soviet TV. That real Reagan is far from the power mad cowboy spoiling for a nuclear war that Soviet propaganda has maintained. His personality, decent, reasonable and sincere, has a powerful impact on American TV and, hopefully, the Soviet people will gain an insight that has never before been possible. If nothing else had come out of the recent meeting of the two leaders this one agreement to exchange views directly via television must stand as a milestone.

One thing that was a surprise, however, was that the Soviet leader was presented in a clever format. He was seated against a very plain background. The President, in contrast, was shown in a wider angle with the American Flag prominently displayed at his side. Flags are powerful symbols and the audience of the Soviet Union has been conditioned to hate the United States symbol over a lifetime. It might have been far more advantageous to focus in close-up on President Reagan without any distraction and allow his face to be the focal point of the picture.

This exchange we hope will be the first of a series. It is a beam of hope glinting through what has been an iron wall. It is far easier to generate hate against an unknown. I think we have nothing to fear from seeing Gorbachev. The Soviets take the greater risk in displaying our President Reagan who directly contradicts their carefully built image of a first class villain.

Apparently this exchange grew out of the private talks between these two leaders which was a very intelligent idea, reportedly suggested by former President Nixon. Because the two men did not have to play to a world audience they apparently were able to do some real business that may yet have a positive result in the real hope for peace that the people of both systems must share. never feared to face the truth and open our system. We have nothing to lose by continuing in that direction. The Soviets, on the other hand, have built the walls to contain their own people while supplying them with a controlled version of propaganda. It is for the Communists to fear the free exchange of ideas. If they can now stand it what a step it would be for world stability. To trust the Communists has always been a fatal mistake, but we can tolerate them if they can tolerate us. We could both live with that.

Mattapoisett Woman's Club

The Veterans' Service Committee of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club needs 16 more 6 inch squares to complete the third afghan for the Brockton Hospital.

If you can take a few minutes one square takes one hour to knit. Please bring as many squares as possible to the January Woman's Club meeting.

LITERATURE GROUP

The Literature Group of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club will meet Wednesday, January 15th, at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Gene Waterhouse, 20 North Street. Bette Ashworth will review "If Tomorrow Comes", a novel by Sidney Sheldon. To complete the program, other members may bring an inspirational piece to offset the January doldrums.

Assistants hostesses will be Rheta Tuttle and Dorothy Verville.

GARDEN GROUP

The Garden Group of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club will hold its first meeting of the new year at the home of Ginny Barden, 112 Aucoot Road, at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, January 15th. Planning a garden now to work in later is a good occupation for this time of year, so we are going to be concerned with Herbs, How to Grow and Enjoy Them. We are fortunate to have a local herbalist, Janet Kennedy of the Bittersweet Herbery on Mattapoisett Neck Road, to speak to us on the subject, for she is an avid gardener who plants, cultivates and uses herbs.

You will probably want to take notes and one of our New Year's resolutions should be to keep some sort of gardening notebook for reference later. Plan to join us and get rid of those January doldrums as we find out the best way to carry out one of the oldest forms of gardening.

Great Decisions '86

Once again the Mattapoisett Woman's Club will sponsor the Great Decisions discussion program. This discussion group is open to anyone in the Tri-Town area and men and women are invited to participate.

The topics for discussion this year are:

1. How Foreign Policy Is Made
2. 'Star Wars' and the Geneva Talks
3. Democracy for Latin America
4. International Terrorism
5. European Community and the United States
6. Third-World Development
7. Israel and the United States
8. Religion for International Politics

• If you plan to be outside for any length of time, hypothermia and frostbite can become potential health hazards. Hypothermia, a drop in body temperature, causes its victim to shiver and become sluggish. Frostbite, the freezing of the fluid inside body cells, is often painless. Frostbitten fingers, ears, and toes appear white and are numb. Treat hypothermia and frostbite victims in the same manner. First, bring them inside and out of their wet clothes as quickly as possible. Apply warm—not hot—compresses to the affected body parts to bring body temperatures back to normal and do not rub the victim. Bring the victim to a physician as soon as possible.

Now We Can Lend More People A Hand.

Fairhaven Savings opens its newest branch in Mattapoisett

When you're a community bank who's built a reputation for service, you find two things happen: You have a lot of very happy customers and you have a lot of people who wish they could be your customers.

The only way we can make more people happy is to open another branch, which is exactly what we did.

The newest Fairhaven Savings office is in Mattapoisett.

To kick things off, all Fairhaven banking centers will be celebrating with cookies and cider. Naturally, the Mattapoisett area residents have the most to celebrate. Now they've got a full-service bank that actually delivers full service.

Besides basic checking and savings, we're happy to open an IRA for you or explain the variations on investment accounts. If you're looking for a loan, either for yourself or your business, we'll do our best to create financing you can live with.

You see, although Fairhaven Savings Bank is growing every day, we still think of ourselves as a friendly local bank. Which is why the thing we want to lend you most is a hand.

Sippican Choral Society

CHORUS SEEKS NEW MEMBERS

The Sippican Choral Society, under the direction of Judith C. Dautel, announced today that new members will be accepted into the chorus at any of the first three January rehearsals. Regular Monday night rehearsals resume January 13th, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Congregational Church, Front Street, Marion.

The chorus will begin work immediately on their spring program. On April 20th they will present a program of American Music - from early America through the Gershwin/Porter era. In mid-May they will join with the Greater New Bedford Chorus, the Concord Chorale and the New Bedford Symphony Orchestra for the Symphony's Cathedral Concert in a performance of Gustav Mahler's Seventh Symphony.

All interested persons are invited to join. Criteria for membership includes the ability to read music, sing on key,

OUT WITH THE OLD
IN WITH THE NEW!

This frequently heard expression can be applied to more than the ringing out of 1985 and the welcoming of 1986. It can in fact be a brief description of many medicines we stock in our pharmacy. For, most of the new drugs your physician is prescribing today were not around a few years ago. And many drugs so popular—just a short while ago are not even being made anymore.

But—we do feel compelled to add that not all the "old" are on the way out. We still get calls to compound many medicines and for drugs that have become old standbys.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"

MATTAPOISETT STUDENT PARTICIPATES IN CHANNEL 6's TV NEWS GAME

Patrick Dawson '88 of Mattapoisett was one of four students from Bishop Stang High School who participated in Channel 6's TV News Game in November. The half-hour televised game consisted of answering questions dealing with current events. With ten points given for each correct answer, Stang scored a decisive victory (280-40) over its opponent, Central High School from Providence, Rhode Island.

ditional "Christmas Count", or national census of wintering birds. The total number of individual birds reported was 17,175, a figure slightly lower than last year's; but the variety was somewhat greater, according to the tally summarized by Paskamansett Bird Club, local sponsor of the census.

Because of their comparative rarity, there were two specially exciting discoveries. One was a Barrow's Goldeneye, a male of this waterfowl species, spotted very close to shore in East Fairhaven. The species normally ranges from Alaska to Greenland, favoring wooded lakes and ponds. During the winter freeze-up the birds are forced southward. Usually they over-winter close to the shoreline, but only very rarely are they seen as far south as southeastern Massachusetts.

The second surprise sighting was one of a Peregrine Falcon, the swiftest bird of prey that for centuries was a favorite among falconers; but its existence was nearly terminated recently by American pesticides. Summering in the Far North, Peregrines in autumn fly south to winter coastally below the Mason-Dixon Line. Occasionally they are sighted here during fall migration, but hardly ever in winter.

An added remarkable aspect of the two rare sightings was that they were both in the immediate vicinity of Winsegansett Heights, Sconticut Neck, Fairhaven. The special Goldeneye was a "life bird" (the first one seen) for the search team comprised of Dr. Milton A. Travers, Millicent Tuckerman, world birder; and Jo Fernandez, local director of the club's survey.

Participating were 10 teams of club members and guests who fanned out in the 30 mile area as well as a good number of at-home observers; the total number of active watchers was 45.

A pot-luck supper at day's end brought together most of the field participants for recounting their day's experiences and reporting their observations for the final tally.

Some remarkable highlights of their sum-

1986 LECTURE SERIES

Dr. Frank Morgan, professor of mathematics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and featured blower of bubbles in "BUBBLES THAT BEND THE MIND", will be the guest speaker Sunday, January 18th, at one o'clock in the afternoon in the first of a series of lectures to be held at the Children's Museum.

Dr. Morgan will speak on the delicate geometry of soap bubbles and soap films that will be used to illustrate some recent research in the science of shapes.

For hundreds of years mathematicians and scientists have been sharpening their intuition contemplating soap bullbes. Architects have been able to design strong inexpensive domelike structures patterned after bubble shapes.

Dr. Morgan has been known to select a wire frame from his collection of intricate shapes and dip it into a nearby bucket of soapy water. He then proceeds to contemplate the irridescent curving soap film clinging to it. After bending the frame and dipping it again and again into the bucket, Dr. Morgan is able to return to his work with fresh insight.

The lecture will take place at the Children's Museum, 276 Gulf Road, South Dartmouth. Admission is $2.00 per person. Group rates are available. Please call the Museum at 993-3361 for additional information.

The slide show and talk will begin at 7:00 to be followed by night sky viewing with the Museum's ten-inch telescope, weather permitting. If the sky is cloudy, viewing will be postponed to Sunday evening, but the slide show will still be held on Saturday.

Participants will observe how stars are formed. Young, old and dying stars may be observed through the telescope. Halley's Comet should be visible.

Gerald Dyck, the Museum's Astronomer-in-Residence, will coordinate the slide show and talk. His interest in astronomy began when as a child he built telescopes with his father. He enjoys sharing his enthusiasm for astronomy with young people and adults during the monthly astronomy nights at the Children's Museum.

Astronomy Night is free to the public. For additional information please call 993-3361.

If You Are Going To Shovel Snow, Be Careful

There's nothing prettier than a new-fallen snow—nothing more dangerous either.

Each year, we hear about the numerous heart attacks and strokes that occur as the result of overexertion. The tragedy of the fatal or near-fatal result of an apparently healthy person succumbing to shoveling snow tends to overshadow a hazard that is even more common.

The same snow which causes heart stress also causes dangerous spinal disc stress to the shoveler. When you consider that a shovel of snow weighs 5 to 7 pounds, you realize the tremendous accumulative weight one has to lift to clear an area. The average driveway or walk will hold hundreds of pounds of snow.

Snow seems to present a challenge to most shovelers; the cold air invigorates them to action; and, the same cold air numbs their sense of pain and fatigue, thereby masking the severity of sprain and strain. The result: too much exertion and too much work without rest breaks.

Doctors of chiropractic, who are specialists in helping patients with back problems, recommend the following rules to guard against the snow-shoveler syndrome:

1. Dress warmly, but don't bundle up so as to make it difficult and awkward for you to move naturally.
2. Use a lightweight pusher-type shovel. Spray it with Teflon so snow will not cling to it.
3. Try not to lift the snow or pitch it. Merely push it into a pile.
4. Avoid sudden twists of the torso. Move the entire body.
5. Keep your back straight when you lift. Use your legs rather than your back.
6. Work slowly.
7. If you feel tired or short of breath, stop and take a rest. Stand up straight and breathe deeply.
8. If you feel a twinge of back pain, stop completely and go inside the house, sit down and rest. If pain persists, see a doctor of chiropractic immediately. With snow, it's wiser to use the head, instead of the back!

Under chiropractic care, a patient is either treated or referred after a comprehensive differential diagnosis.

St. Luke's Hospital

ST. LUKE'S HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The second annual meeting of St. Luke's Health Foundation of Greater New Bedford was recently held. The foundation was established two years ago to better provide for the changing health care needs of the community. The non-profit foundation is the parent company of St. Luke's Hospital of New Bedford and SLH Properties. Following the annual meeting of the foundation the 101st meeting of the hospital was called to order.

David P. Cameron was re-elected president of the foundation and chairman of the hospital. Also re-elected as officers were James P. Honohan, William L. Jenney, M.D., and Elizabeth O. LaStaiti, vice presidents of the foundation and vice chairpersons of the hospital; Dr. Joyce Y. Passos, secretary of the foundation and hospital; John G. Hodgson, Jr., treasurer of the foundation, and Leslie V. Belken, treasurer of the hospital.

Newly appointed members to the board of trustees of St. Luke's Health Foundation of Greater New Bedford and St. Luke's Hospital of New Bedford are Frederic Alpert, Barbara Collins, and C. Douglas Fogg, M.D.; reappointed to the board were Stanton Belinkoff, M.D., Rubye Finger, Walter J. Hughes, and Normand E. Olivier, M.D.

Officers elected to serve on the board of trustees of SLH Properties are: Walter J. Hughes, chairman; John B. Day, president; and Leslie V. Belken, treasurer.

In his remarks to the board of trustees Mr. Cameron noted that his "first report as chairman of the board of trustees coincides with St. Luke's Hospital's one hundred and first year of delivering high quality care to our Greater New Bedford communities." Mr. Cameron continued by outlining many of the "key accomplishments" of the past year. His list included how well the hospital has prepared for the new Medicare reimbursement system which was implemented on October 1. The new Medicare reimbursement plan provides for fixed and predetermined payments to hospitals based on a patient's diagnosis. "Satisfying this reimbursement system", Mr. Cameron said, "which is designed to reduce the length of patient stay, yet give quality, affordable health care, has been a major objective of this hospital."

During the year, Mr. Cameron pointed out, the hospital has improved its services to the community. He cited The Hospital Walk-in as a major step in continuing to meet the community's health care needs. The Hospital Walk-In, located at the Emergency entrance, is open 24 hours a day, every day of the year, for any medical problem. By being located at the Emergency Room, patients whose medical problems may be more serious are assured of the complete emergency services including cardiac and trauma care.

St. Luke's Hospital also expanded its Cardiac Rehabilitation Program for outpatients this year, noted Mr. Cameron. This program which is under the medical direction of cardiologist William E. Caplan, M.D. helps heart disease patients return to optimal health and learn healthier lifestyle patterns. The Cardiac Rehabilitation program has a strong educational emphasis and counseling component, as well as dietary plans and exercise.

In addition, Mr. Cameron noted that the SurgiCenter at St. Luke's Hospital completed its first full year of operation. This is another outpatient service which offers high quality care, convenience and affordable cost to patients in the community.

"The average patient is older due to greater improvements in medical technology," Mr. Cameron said. Many elderly patients at St. Luke's Hospital were helped by the Geriatric Unit this year. Patients who are not acutely ill and are waiting nursing home placement or discharge to home with supportive services benefit emotionally and physically in this unit. Patients generally wear street clothes, enjoy group dining and participate in many activities.

Other key accomplishments cited by Mr. Cameron included the implementation of a marketing program and the purchase of over $1 million in capital equipment technology.

In closing, Mr. Cameron thanked the officers, trustees, medical staff, administration and employees. He emphasized the dedication of auxiliary members and volunteers who contributed over 32,000 hours, "thus materially aiding the hospital to give a high level of patient care efficiently and with compassion."

Mr. Cameron made a special note of and gave personal thanks to the employees of the hospital who for the past years, through the their efforts, professional skills and dedication even during times of hardship, have continually delivered the highest quality of care to patients, thus contributing to the hospital's success and important community health care mission.

Also addressing the board of trustees at the annual meeting were John G. Hodgson, Jr., treasurer of the foundation; Leslie V. Belken, treasurer of the hospital; John C. Bullard, M.D., medical director; David Blumen, M.D., president of the medical staff; and Nancy Doyle, president of the auxiliary.

Antique Show

AT NORTON SCHOOL

The Land Preservation Society of Norton will present the 11th annual Norton Antiques Show and Sale on Saturday and Sunday, January 18th and 19th, at the Middle School on Route 123 in Norton.

Fifty-five exhibitors from Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, Maine and New Hampshire as well as southern New England have been selected to show 18th and early 19th century furnishings.

In addition to booths full of Early American country and formal furniture will be displays of antique artwork and books, glass and china, textiles and rugs, early woodenware and metalware. Special collections will include Quimper, majolica, mocha, Canton and Staffordshire china; early American pattern glass and open salts; jewelry; midwestern quilts and oriental rugs; Connecticut clocks; dolls; Shaker and Indian artifacts; decoys and nautical items; pewter, brass and copper; and tools. All items will be for sale.

Among several new exhibitors invited to participate in the Norton Antiques Show are Charles and Barbara Adams of Middleboro who will show Bennington pottery and early baskets; Mark Keily of Oxford, Ohio

On the walk, the group will explore at close range the winter plants and animal inhabitants of the saltmarsh. Although this narrow zone where the land meets the sea appears to be dormant for the winter, there is still a good deal of evidence of activity. The group will examine this evidence and discuss the non-living factors, such as tides and wind, which influence marsh organisms. Please dress warmly.

Weekly walks at the Lloyd Center are open to the public and are free of charge. If you plan to attend this walk please call the center at 990-0505, as group size will be limited. Trails at the Center are open from dawn to dusk 365 days a year; the Center is open from 9 to 5 Tuesday through Sunday. Weekly walks are offered to the public thanks to the support of Marianne Macdonald Real Estate.

LLOYD CENTER FOR ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES
VOYAGE TO ACADIA NATIONAL PARK

Acadia National Park, on the Maine Coast, is the destination of the Lloyd Center's upcoming VOYAGE for high school students during school vacation week, February 17-21. Acadia consists of a spectacular range of glacially carved granite mountains rising directly from the sea with seven summits exceeding 1000 feet in elevation. The park is located on Mount Desert Island, 108 square miles of mountains, pine forests and shoreside caves surrounding Sommes Sound, the only fjord on the United States Atlantic Coast. This winter expedition will include learning winter camping skills, hiking or snowshoeing the forests and mountains and observing wildlife such as harbor seals and winter birds. The five day VOYAGE, the second of the season, costs $190. per student ($180. for Lloyd Center members); limited scholarships are available.

The VOYAGE-ers will depart by van from the Lloyd Center on Monday, February 17, accompanied by Bill Chamberlin, Lloyd Center Outreach Program Coordinator, and Rob Marshall, Lloyd Center Research Assistant. The group will set up basecamp at Blackwoods Campground on Mt. Desert Island for four nights, sleeping in tents and cooking meals over a campstove. VOYAGE-ers will hike from camp each day to such places as the Tarn, a glacial lake and area of beaver activity as well as Thunder Hole and Otter Cliffs, spectacular vantage points on the coast. Wildlife on the island and just off-shore is plentiful and sightings of animals and their signs will contribute to this exciting Acadia experience.

On Thursday and Friday the group will travel by van to other parts of the Park. Visits could include Little Cranberry Island, a small fishing community, and the College of the Atlantic, a small college in Bar Harbor with a Natural History Museum focusing on the local ecosystems.

NATURALISTS TRIPS TO MAHO BAY

The Island of St. John in the U.S. Virgin Islands is the destination of the "Naturalists Trips to Maho Bay", led by Green Briar Nature Center Director Bob McMaster and his wife, botanist Nancy McMaster. They will offer a variety of activities in the immediate campground area including birding on Francis Bay, a garden walk at Caneel Bay, and a beginner's snorkel lesson. Several longer tours will be planned around St. John or to the nearby British Virgin Islands. Other possible activities can be arranged through the campground or the Virgin Islands National Park headquarters including sailing, windsurfing, scuba diving, local history tours and cultural demonstrations.

Accommodations are in simple but comfortable canvas cottages overlooking the bay. Each unit is fully furnished including a small camp kitchen to permit cooking. Dining is also available in the Community Center.

Two trips are offered, March 21 through March 30, or March 21 through April 10. Cost for the 10-day trip is $925, for the 3-week trip, $1250, per person double occupancy. That fee also includes round trip

SMU Fund Drive

Southeastern Massachusetts University's Annual Fund drive, the first in the school's history, was kicked off during the week of December 16 with a goal of raising $250,000 for research, programs, and scholarships.

During that week letters from SMU President John R. Brazil went out to 25,000 alumni, parents, and friends of SMU in the community asking for their support. The mailing is to be followed by a phone-a-thon and by personal contacts.

Historically, SMU has sought private funding through its Alumni Association, its

SMU foundation, the SMU Library Associates, and President's Club. "In consolidating our fund-raising efforts into one University drive," said Robert R. Saltzman, director of alumni affairs and director of the new SMU Fund project, "we are going with a national trend among colleges and universities to unify these programs and to avoid overlapping solicitations."

"Private funds are necessary to a public, tax-supported university," said President Brazil, "to provide a margin of excellence. They help to meet vital needs of the University which are not fully provided for by state appropriations -- new academic programs, cultural centers, faculty research, and scholarships for students."

"Of the 800 public, degree-granting, four-year colleges and universities in America, more than 500 of them have established foundations to help raise additional funds," said Norman Zalkind, executive director of the SMU Foundation. "This gift support can provide the way to excellence."

Over the past years, SMU's private fund-raising programs have provided support for many projects which could not be financed by state appropriations but which enhance the cultural and academic effectiveness of the University. Some of these are the Eisteddfod, SMU's folk festival for the community; the Center for the Portuguese Speaking World; the Arnold M. Dubin Labor Education Center; the Center for Jewish Culture; the Summer French Institute; the University's Child Care Center; Disabled Student Services; the SMU Chamber Orchestra; an alcohol/drug education project; an astronomy observatory; and ad-

Blood Donors Sought

Red Cross officials state that blood donations have kept pace with blood requests over the Christmas holidays. However they anticipated these levels would be difficult to maintain over the New Year's holiday and weekend.

Donations traditionally drop to very low levels during this time period because of vacations at many collection sites and donors traveling for the holidays.

The demand for blood increases during this time period because of the many accidents on our highways during this season.

Blood Donors Sought

Red Cross officials state that blood donations have kept pace with blood requests over the Christmas holidays. However they anticipated these levels would be difficult to maintain over the New Year's holiday and weekend.

Donations traditionally drop to very low levels during this time period because of vacations at many collection sites and donors traveling for the holidays.

The demand for blood increases during this time period because of the many accidents on our highways during this season.

FROM MASSACHUSETTS SOCIETY OF CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS, INC.

DO YOU KNOW THE ANSWERS TO THESE TEN QUESTIONS?

The countdown to April 15th has begun. Over the coming weeks, more than 100 million American taxpayers will be mulling over income tax questions. To help you get a fix on your tax picture, the Massachusetts Society of CPAs has put together this tax quiz on filing 1985 returns. Try not to peek at the answers.

1. True or false. Tax indexing, when tax brackets, exemptions and zero bracket amounts are adjusted for inflation every year, goes into effect for the first time on your 1985 federal return.

2. If you gave away clothing or furniture valued at more than ($200.)/($500.) in 1985, you must file a Form 8283 for these non-cash charitable contributions.

3. Which one of the following is not deductible? a. Advertising expenses for a business b. Child support payments c. Costs for credit bureau reports.

4. True or false. President Reagan's tax reform proposal will change tax rules for 1985.

5. An exemption in 1985 is worth:
   a. $1,000 b. $2,000. c. $1,040.

6. If you gave to a charity in 1985 and

Art Awards

REGIONAL COMPETITION, EXHIBITION IN BOSTON GLOBE SCHOLASTIC ART AWARDS SET FOR JANUARY IN NORTH DARTMOUTH

The best of many, talented, local junior and senior high school artists will be on display in January at Southeastern Massachusetts University in North Dartmouth, as the Boston Globe Scholastic Art Awards program has scheduled its South and Cape Region Awards Ceremony and Exhibition as part of the program's statewide competition.

The Boston Globe Scholastic Art Awards, an annual public affairs presentation of the newspaper to encourage achievement in creative art among young people, is open to students in grades 7 through 12 in all public, private, and parochial schools in the state. Now in its 36th year, the program is administered by the Artists Foundation, a public, non-profit organization in Boston.

Competition is held at five regional sites, with regional winners receiving Gold Key Awards and Honorable Mentions. Gold Key winners are automatically entered in the state competition.

The South and Cape Region, composed of 74 cities and towns, has scheduled its exhibition of winners at Southeastern Massachusetts University in North Dartmouth from Saturday, January 11 through Thursday, January 23. It will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday and 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday. It will be closed January 20.

is set for Sunday, January 19, at 2 p.m. in Room 153 of the University's College of Visual and Performing Arts, where regional winners will receive their honors. Regional judging is done by art teachers and professional artists.

The opening exhibition of the state winners is set for February 11 in the Rotunda of Faneuil Hall Marketplace in Boston. It will be open to the public from Wednesday, February 12, through Tuesday, March 4, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. The State Awards Ceremony is set for Sunday, March 2, at Faneuil Hall in Boston.

State winners will compete in a national high school competition sponsored by Scholastic Magazine, and scholarships and cash awards are presented to those students who demonstrate outstanding work.

Mothers March

March of Dimes Mothers March will celebrate its 36th year nationally, and 34th year in Massachusetts when it commences Sunday, January 19, and continues through January 26. The Mothers March is noted as being the "original" door-to-door campaign. It began in the early 1950's as a means to collect funds for the eradication of polio.

Like many of the most successful fund-raising events sponsored by the March of Dimes, the annual Mothers March was born out of the initiative and imagination of volunteers. Two businessmen from Phoenix, Arizona, Charles Hoover and Dick Fitzgerald decided a personalized, neighbor-to-neighbor collection could provide the community with a new way to raise funds to battle the crippler -- polio. With the help of other volunteers, these two men organized the first march in January 1950. The date was chosen in honor of the founder of the March of Dimes' birthday, the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Hoover, Fitzgerald and their group canvassed the entire community soliciting funds for the March of Dimes. Shining porch lights, ringing church bells, and blaring fire sirens signaled one city's commitment to the Mothers March. Amid these sounds of hope, marchers collected more than $45,000. The Mothers March was born. Subsequently, polio was defeated.

In 1985, more than 25 years later, over 18,000 men, women and children throughout Massachusetts knocked on their neighbors' doors to collect funds for the March of Dimes' new mission --- the prevention of birth defects. A large majority of these marchers are the children and the grandchildren of the first marchers. Just as the campaign passes from neighbor to neighbor it also passes from generation to generation.

In the spirit and tradition of the Mothers March, the March of Dimes asks that you give generously when a March of Dimes volunteer calls upon you during January 19-26, and invest in our future generations.

For more information on the Mothers March or to become a Mothers March volunteer please call the March of Dimes in Middleboro at 947-1519.

Boston Children's Museum

A CELEBRATION OF BLACK CULTURE

Throughout February the Children's Museum joins others in acknowledging the contributions of Black culture to our society. The Museum's celebration focuses on well-known and not so well-known Black people as well as the rich cultural traditions of Africa, the Caribbean and the Americas through a series of special events, exhibits and workshops.

Two special exhibits will be on display throughout the month. "Black Dolls and Figures from Around the World" is a view of Black images from the 1880's to Mr. T.; from Africa, the Caribbean, South America and the United States. The exhibit will pose questions and provide clues about the background and history of these dolls. "African and Native American Baskets, Textiles and Beadwork" compares the crafts of these cultures. Native people of Africa and the Americas have independently created many objects that "look alike". In this exhibit visitors can explore possible reasons why this is so.

The special events featured include kora (West African harp) music, African folktales, games, percussion, West African dances and children's choir performances. Dr. Harriet Masembe, a native of Uganda and prominent educator, will teach African stories and songs.

The Resource Center will be holding an

Women's Health Workshops

WORKSHOP SERIES ON WOMEN AND EXPERIENCE OF WELLNESS PLANNED

A seminar series to look at the special health concerns of women at different ages will begin in January, sponsored by the Erna Yaffe Foundation in cooperation with the Bristol Community College Foundation, Pierce Foundation, Inc., the Sophia Romero Trust, and the Southeastern Massachusetts Area Health Education Center.

Each seminar in the four-part series, "Women and the Experience of Wellness", will focus on women's health needs at a specific time of life. The first seminar on Thursday, January 9, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., is entitled "The Mature Woman (ages 40-60)". Workshops will examine the empty nest syndrome, menopausal issues, nutrition and cancer, and substance use and abuse. Keynote speaker is Paula Gold, secretary of consum-

The second seminar, on Saturday, February 15, from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., focuses on the young woman, ages 20-39. The keynote address will be given by Lisa Cole, director of the women's health unit for the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Workshops will look at the stress of re-entering work or school, childbearing, substance use and abuse, and domestic unrest. Cost is $7.00 and includes lunch.

The third seminar, Tuesday, March 18, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., will examine health needs of the adolescent woman, ages 14-19. Keynote speaker is Jacquelyn G. Sowers, school and health education consultant from Hampton, NH, and the program will include a respondent panel of local school and community health resources. This seminar is free and lunch is provided.

The final seminar in the series, Thursday, April 3 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., will examine the needs of older women over age 61. The keynote address will be given by Donald Spence, Ph.D., director of the program in gerontology at the University of Rhode Island.

This seminar is also free, and lunch is provided.

The series leads up to the fifth annual Health Institute on Promoting Prevention on Thursday, May 22, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. The theme for this year's institute is

Poster Contest

AAA Massachusetts today announced its 42nd National School Traffic Safety Poster Program to encourage students to think about traffic safety and to learn by doing.

Massachusetts students have a chance to win prizes and receive special recognition.

Open to students in public, parochial or private elementary or secondary schools.

Prizes - over $12,000 in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Posters will be judged on originality, art execution, visual impact of a basic safety concept, and interpretation of an assigned safety slogan.

This AAA program has again received the endorsement of the National Association of Secondary School Principals and been placed on the Advisory List of National
